

Francesca M. Coleman

Associate

303-293-3227

colemanf@hallevans.com

Francesca Coleman focuses on the defense of construction defect and professional liability claims. Ms. Coleman represents construction professionals, architects, and engineers throughout all phases of litigation. Ms. Coleman is also experienced with matters involving real estate nondisclosure, contract disputes, intra-business disputes, homeowner's association disputes, premises liability, employment liability, and workers' compensation. Before joining Hall & Evans, Ms. Coleman was an associate at a general civil litigation firm in Denver, CO where she gained extensive deposition and trial experience.

Education

JD: University of Wyoming College of Law, 2018, Dean's List

BSA: Colorado State University, 2015, Business Management and Political Science

Bar Admissions

Colorado, 2018
Wyoming, 2021

Ms. Coleman graduated from the University of Wyoming College of Law on the Dean's Honor Roll. While earning her J.D., she was a Law Intern with the Colorado State Public Defender's Office in Fort Collins, Colorado, and interned for insurance defense firms in Colorado and Wyoming.

Decisions

Won summary judgment on behalf of property owner concerning whether a common interest community was formed by implication of law.

Professional Associations

Colorado Bar Association
Denver Bar Association, Young Lawyers Division

Professional Experience

Associate, Robinson & Henry, P.C., Denver, CO 2019-2021
Associate/Law Clerk, Lee & Brown, LLC, Denver, CO 2019-2020
Law Clerk, Sundahl Powers, Kapp & Martin, LLC, Cheyenne, WY 2017

Other Activities

Gold Level Judge for U.S. Figure Skating