Grace Seger defends clients in Kansas and Missouri in matters involving premises liability, transportation, construction defects, and products liability. Before joining Hall & Evans in 2025, Grace practiced at a civil litigation firm in Overland Park, Kansas. She also previously represented plaintiffs in personal injury matters, giving her a balanced perspective on both sides of litigation.

In addition to her practice, Grace is heavily involved in legal education. She currently serves as the Head Coach of the University of Kansas Undergraduate Mock Trial team, mentoring more than 50 students in trial advocacy. She is also an adjunct professor at the University of Kansas School of Law, where she assists in coaching the law school's competitive mock trial team.

Grace earned her J.D., with Pro Bono Distinction, from the University of Kansas School of Law in 2022. During law school, she was actively involved in Mock Trial, Moot Court, Traffic Court, and the Project for Innocence.
